Dear Ms. Urh,

Your disappearance leaves me somewhat puzzled as I believed that the double chambered fat heads of the upper world immune to my disappointment.

Attached is an update to benefit you and your inadequacies.

Sincerely,

David Crofts.

Dear Ms. Urh,

I feel that you and I have an “obligation” to try and include Dr. Damodaran inside the fold of the responsible medical professional.

To help me to do this, I ask that you, please provide to me, all the details of any defence he may have made to the board when asked to justify his actions.

This will allow me to better appreciate his actions and the motives that were driving them.

I may then be more able to constructively use this valuable insight into the unfortunate circumstances he may have found himself in, and therefore be more able to grant to him the appropriate allowance for his failings.

According to you, the board “noted”, “considered” and “decided” to stop trying to “conclude”, before, it in fact, concluded anything at all !!!!

I believe that the board is better than that.

I “feel” that you are taking liberties with the accurate re-presentation of the findings and determinations of the board, and that you are “bending” them to serve what you “personally” understand to be the “indicated” response.

I feel if you accurately reflect the board, your next statement will be a request for me to excuse your previous outburst.

Re: Notification number: LG:00224662

Dear Leanne Graham,

I wish to impress upon you the serious nature of the misconduct of Dr. Saji Damodaran and feel it clear that the level of service provided to me is of an unacceptable standard.

I believe that no factors exist that could possibly mitigate this behavior and therefore immediate action by AHPRA is indicated.

I am most concerned with his failure to conduct himself in a “responsible” way when asked to provide service as obliged by his status as a registered member of the medical profession, and direct you to focus on this while investigating whether my notification is grounds to refer him to a Professional Standards Panel.

The illegal disclosing of my personal information, though extremely serious, pales in comparison to his failure to provide any “response” at all when only asked to provide the simplest of services.

Yours sincerely,

David Crofts

Dear Mr Crofts

Assessment of your Notification about Dr Saji Damodaran MED0000938610

I refer to your emails to Ms Graham.

Having received a notification, the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) undertakes the necessary administrative tasks to enable the Medical Board of Australia (the Board) to complete a preliminary assessment of the notification. The Board has sixty days from the date the matter was received (23 March 2012) to conduct the preliminary assessment of the matter.

Since making the notification you have sent numerous emails to Ms Graham. This is delaying the consideration of the notification by the Board. Given the frequency of your emails I have requested Ms Graham to not respond to each email but to prepare the matter for the consideration of the Board as soon as practicable. It is not possible for you to expedite the Board's consideration of this matter by requesting a response to emails by a date or time that you determine. Continuing to do so will delay the matter more.

The Board will take into account statements of fact regarding the practitioner's conduct in considering whether to not to investigate the notification.

After the matter has been considered by the Board you will be advised of the Board's decision.

Yours sincerely

RE: Assessment of Notification about Dr. Saji Damodaran :- MED0000938610.

Dear Madam,

As indicated by your letter of 23/04/2012, I understand that the Medical Board of Australia is artificially limited to the time between 23/03/2012 and 22/05/2012 to conduct a, so called, "preliminary" assessment. I am left with the conclusion, regardless of the "need" for further assessment; the powers that be will determine that the "preliminary" phase of the "assessment" is over simply because 60 days have passed. I feel this implies the possibility that further "necessary" assessment will not be undertaken simply because some arbitrary time limit has expired.

I believe that, considering your comment above, it is doubly important for you to perform your "necessary administrative tasks" and to forward to the Board, my email correspondence with Ms. Graham, while they are still feeling in a receptive mood. You should understand that this correspondence is designed to help them come closer to a conclusion and should in no way be considered a retarding factor. The only retarding effect of my emails is on you and your ability to get your days' work done.

A.H.P.R.A. has an obligation to obey the standards of accepted business practice and furnish a response to all those who are able to reasonably expect one, and if through your failure to behave in a professional way, this request has to be repeated multiple times, this is only a sad and sorry reflection on you. The letter you posted to me, dated 23/04/2012, indicates that you are taking a deliberately obstructive stance when the simple emailing of a progress report on the co-ordination of my notification would have sufficed. Your deliberately obstructive stance is further evidenced by your statement that if I try to impose a deadline on you, you will only process my request slower.

Yours sincerely,

David Crofts.

P.S. I believe part of A.H.P.R.A.'s "necessary administrative tasks" is to provide feedback on the progress of all notifications, so I must repeat me request for a response once more. This response is part of your duty to me and not connected with your obligations to the Board.

P.P.S. You have an obligation to me, Saji and the Board to allow the un-obstructed flow of all information that each of the concerned parties feel relevant when co-ordinating what arguments should be allowed to be presented to the Board. Any exclusion of information I feel important would indicate to me a serious lack of appropriate consideration for the decision make capacities of the Board as I believe all information that I have provided is both logically connected and true, and clearly indicating a unique course of action.

P.P.P.S. You seem to use the words "assessment", "consideration" and "investigation" interchangeably, so I have serious doubts that you have your role as facilitator of the just "response", clear in your own mind.

Dear Leanne,

Instead of facilitating the "entrance" to "reality" for his patients, Saji "forbids" "his" patients from passing through it !!!!

Regards,

David Crofts.

P.S.

This means he is a negative influence for curing the on-set of one's first psychosis.

P.P.S.

My Thanks Go To Bill Orchard,

He facilitated my return from the other-side of reality.

However, I still yearn to re-visit the entrance.

This universe needs to be considered just one of many to get one's end into this entrance however. I hope that Bill's universe is not sore with me !!!!

P.P.P.S.

This email demands that you respond with more than acknowledgment.
