ATTN :- Fiona Sinnamon

Dear Madam,

Clearly, Dr. Das's reasons for asking the crisis assessment to visit my house (once with police already in tow) are invalid and not valid. It is quite clear to me that he does not have the information necessary to make this judgment call without first getting up to date information from me directly regarding my state of mind before placing these calls for a violating assessment to the crisis assessment team.

If he feels he magically knows this information already it is the very definition of un-professional not to document them for my medical records at Monash Health.

I vigorously object to the board finding Dr. Das's approach appropriate and you leave me with absolutely no possible avenue of redress to this situation short of me declaring war against the medical profession and physically forcing them and you to reverse yourselves.

Sincerely,

David Crofts.
