Dear Sir,

The enclosed document leads me to conclude that; you, as just another 100% anti-patient psychiatrist; in fact; have no “objective reasons” for your actions at all, other than simply to oppose the patient; and hence your only logical course of action is to apologize, and prescribe the treatment I originally requested.

If you continue to refuse to do the indicated thing; and refuse to accept overrule; your most likely course of action is to try and bamboozle me by providing the “subjective reason” that my current dose is the “effective” dose. This is clearly “bullshit” as all “subjective reasons” are really just a front for an “objective-logical-mechanism” of “logically-connected” “objective-factors”; and these justifying “logical-connections” and “objective-factors” are what I am requesting the rigorous, logical and objective analysis of by a private psychiatrist of my own choosing.

Yours sincerely,

David Crofts.

P.S.

If you claim from your clinical experience the requested reduction went badly; you must logically conclude these experiences are not relevant unless these clinical experiences also concern a patient that experienced; like me; a ten year stretch without hospitalization with a dose of medication similar to 150 mg of Clopixol every 3 weeks.
