WAKING UP AFTER BEING

FROZEN FOR 100 YEARS

The time of horse and cart has past,
And now the cars and trucks go wizzing by
And girls in dress far to short for common decency walk past not even looking or smiling
In their own small world,
It is not like the old days.

THE NEST

Nine little birds squawking in their nest,
Along comes Mum with a mouthful of worms
Now they are squawking.
Mum flies down and feeds their little faces
Now the chicks are happy, Mum's Job is done
Then she sits down to keep them warm

THE WORM

The slimy worm squiggles and squorms
In between blades of grass.
It goes along squiggling and squorming,
Just like a miniature snake.
Then he hears the ground vibrate and he know a bird is after him,
so he dives down into his hole.
He is safe.

THE GRASS HOPPER

There was this grasshopper that jumped on a hickory leaf and made it sway and caused a disruption, he stayed on the leaf for while and then jumped off and left everything as it was!

THE KANGAROO

The Kangaroo jumps,
and thumps the ground,
As he walks around the city zoo.
The zoo keeper feeds him and goes out
What a rotten life for a kangaroo

THE RAM

The ram in the paddock walks around looking for shade and something to eat
He finds a tree and camps the night
How dull it would be,
to be a ram.

THE RAM

The ram in the paddock walks around looking for shade and some grass to nibble
He discovers some shade, so he camps the night
How dull it would be,
to be a ram.

I AM A VOLCANOE

I am at the top of a mountain,
bubbling, boiling, slopping and slurping,
I am a volcano.
Then I start to rumble,
and start to shake the earth,
Then suddenly, "Boom", we erupted.
