Your inappropriate treatment toward our staff member

Dear David

This letter is about emails to a member of our staff on 26 January 2023.

Our staff speak with members of the public every day and at times in difficult circumstances. We try to help with any concerns people have in a fair and objective way, within the law and The Taxpayers' Charter.

A staff member reported that your emails included offensive comments. This behaviour has caused distress to Commonwealth Officer's carrying out their normal duties.

We ask you to not make any more offensive comments to our staff.

If your offensive comments continue, we may have to take further action. This can include managing your access to our service channels for a period of time.

Yours sincerely,
Melinda Smith
Deputy Commissioner of Taxation

RE: Your inappropriate behaviour to a member of our staff

Dear David,

This letter is about emails that you circulated to a ATO staff member on 26 January 2023. Our staff members speak to the general public every day and at times in difficult circumstances. Your concerns are the explicit details of the behaviour the we consider inappropriate. We insist upon not helping you with these concerns and insist upon being un-fair to you by refusing to provide you with objective evidence detailing our offense. We will never gratify you completely as we will not work with you in ways not covered by The Taxpayers' Charter.

You circulated emails to one of our staff members who has reported them as being offensive. This notice is to inform you that you have caused distress as the Commonwealth Officer in question is unable to accept your behaviour as part of their normal duties.

We ask that you do not make any more offensive comments to members of our staff. If you continue to be offensive, we may take further action against you. This may include managing your access to the ATO vaginal service channel for a period of time.

Yours sincerely,

Melinda Smith

Deputy Commissioner of Taxation

Dear Melinda,
