The real appeal of nuclear weapons is that they exaggerate one's weight on the world stage !!!! All countries should be treated equally simply because they are self-contained for & in the service of their own citizens !!!! Sadly, to be treated with the correct level of respect (which only the super-powers seem to enjoy these days) one must actually, physically and mechanically do the real work of research and development necessary to successfully build a system of nuclear defense !!!! The real issue here is, is Iran up to the test of containing such a high concentration of power within it's borders, or will Iran become dominated by some hostile element with the un-intended consequence being their own destruction and that of their more un-popular neighbors !!!!

Kerry: Unclear If Iranian Nuclear Deal Will Be Reached

U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry on Saturday again slammed a letter signed by 47 Republican senators that warned Iran about a prospective landmark nuclear deal, calling the letter irresponsible an...
